

Valley Educational Center for the Creative Arts, Inc. (VECCA)

2023 Creative Writing & Journalism Scholarship Entry Form

VECCA is awarding a scholarship up to $1,000.

Applicants must be graduating Shenandoah County public, private, or home-schooled students, who demonstrate dedication to their education in pursuing a degree related to Creative Writing, Journalism, or similar major, with the intent of either teaching or pursuing a professional career in that field. Please submit the completed application along with the following: 1) a resume of publications, participation in creative writing or journalism activities, or related awards or pursuits; 2) two letters of recommendation, one each from a creative writing or journalism teacher and another academic teacher, 3) your personal statement, approximately one typed page (double-spaced), concerning the importance of creative writing or journalism in your life to date and in the future (include your college/major plans); 4) writing samples amounting to no more than 10 pages – if these have been published, please include publication credits; and 5) a current photo of yourself. Home-schooled students may use a primary education teacher and another adult familiar with your writing as references.

Deadline for submission is April 7, 2023.
